Aerial Application Association of Australia (AAAA)

The Aerial Application Association of Australia (AAAA) aims to promote, foster, encourage and support a sustainable aerial application industry based on the professionalism of operators, pilots and staff, and the pursuit of industry best practice.

With membership of over 75% of active aerial applicators in Australia, the AAAA represents over 90% of application aircraft in use. The industry utilizes over 300 special purpose aircraft, as well as a wide range of supporting vehicles and equipment, along with established aircraft maintenance facilities throughout the agricultural areas of Australia.

The modern industry is vastly different today from when it commenced in Australia in 1948. The progression from 'crop-dusting' to aerial application has been accompanied by revolutions in aircraft, engines, GPS and, most recently, management and planning.

Today's application operators and pilots are totally professional, highly trained and committed to Australian agriculture and the community they serve.

The AAAA Convention has been a staple of the aerial application calendar for decades. The Convention has traditionally been a chance for aerial applicators, their families, staff and support industries to come together in a relaxed atmosphere to share, learn and develop networks.

The 2018 Convention and Trade Show will be no different, with a mix of presentations, interactive workshops and networking opportunities there is something to inform and entertain all who attend.

The venue, Sea World Resort has been specifically chosen to encourage you to bring the entire family. With Sea World Resort offering discounted tickets to the theme park as well as Warner Bros. Movie World & Wet'n'Wild, so there is plenty to keep the kids entertained.

Who Should Attend

The 2018 Convention and Trade Show will be of interest to all in the aerial application industry - maintenance and engineering personal, pilots, operators, engine manufacturers, aircraft manufacturers, nozzle makers, chemical and pesticide manufacturers and distributors, land owners as well as local, state and federal government bodies involved in ensuring our agricultural industry remains world class.

The program offers a cross-section of ideas, reforms and hands-on approaches to tackling the issues currently facing the industry. As well it will highlight the latest trends and examine some of the emerging technologies and regulatory issues.

Keynote Speaker

Mr Alan Corr
Agri-Spray Consulting, USA

Alan will be conducting a workshop on Spray Quality. Alan was in Australia in 2017 conducting aircraft pattern testing and this is a great chance to learn more about core spraying expertise and aircraft set-up.

Alan Corr, founder of Agri-Spray Consulting is a certified Operation S.A.F.E. Analyst and has conducted numerous fly-ins and private testing sessions in Nebraska and additional states which have included over 500 aircraft and more than 3,000 individual aircraft passes since 2005. Alan has conducted numerous aerial application research studies including pattern uniformity under various nozzle and boom placement scenarios, nozzle comparisons, spray deflection setting and boom pressure effects on droplet size, effect of spray additives on pattern and droplet size, crosswind patterns and downwind product movement in various weather conditions, drift reducing product comparisons, droplet size variation across the pattern, and other related boom set-up and spray deposition issues.

Weather

In Autumn (March – May) sunny days are followed by cooler nights with average temperatures between 18 - 25.7°C (64.4 - 78.2°F).

Water temperatures are still high enough to swim (25.2°C / 77.3°F) and it is generally less rainy than the summer months.

With the onset of winter (June – August) the only real difference is the temperature, with averages between 12.5 - 21.5°C (54.5 - 70.7°F).
